

Solutions for Globally Mobile-Employees

Course Overview:

- Importance of benefits for globally travelers
- Standard benefits offered to globally-mobile employees
- Looking for global benefits in your current book of business

Globally-mobile employees' healthcare needs are globally dynamic. The employees benefit from having programs and health care solutions that are tailored to their unique and specific needs—helping improve the success of international assignments, boost productivity, and keep families safe.

To schedule this class, reach out to your MetLife Account Executive